

Mother Nature leaves her mark at Heroes' Memorial

By Louise Smith

Mother Nature put on quite the show on Saturday night, September 10. The nearly hour long storm started out with a quiet lightning display that soon turned into a full blown thunderstorm complete with loud bangs along with strong winds. The power flickered for many households and across the province thousands were without power for an extended period.

In the parking lot at the front of Heroes' Memorial in Cowansville, on Rue Sud (South St.) half of one of the mature trees was sheered off in the storm and it came to rest across a large portion of the parking lot. Thankfully it was a time when no cars were parked in front of the building. None of the garden project initiated last spring was damaged.

This tree falling brought back memories of a few years ago when another tree fell in a storm and that time it rested on the building. This is a reminder that nature is always a force to be reckoned with.

The Bend. Sept 13, 2016

Mother Nature shows her strength. Saturday night, half of a tree was downed in the storm, and it came to rest across the parking lot at Heroes' Memorial.