SARCA stands for: Reception, Referral, Counselling and Support Services; (Services d'accueil, de référence, de conseil et d'accompagnement).

Q: We asked Andréanne Ruel-Lachance, Academic and Vocational Information Counsellor, to describe SARCA services.

A: SARCA is a free service that includes reception, information, learning options, career counselling and support. We are here to help you identify your goal, what you need to achieve it and support you through the process. We will look into what you have done in school, your personal experiences and then identify what are the different ways to get to your objective. Everything is done without pressure, and you are the one making the decisions. We are only here to guide and support you through it. We will make sure to guide you to the right service, depending on your needs.

Q: You might be wondering who can benefit from SARCA services?

A: The answer is simple: everyone who wishes to get back to school and who is aged 16 years old and over. Anybody who wishes to improve their level of education, change career, check out different options that could be possible in their situation. It's never too late to come back to school!

Q: What could you expect on your first appointment with the SARCA services?

A: The first meeting would be to discuss your objective (if you already have one), do an overview of your academic background and personal/professional experiences and identify what you need to achieve to get there. If you really don't know what you want to do and you need some guidance, another meeting with the guidance counsellor could be recommended. The idea is to try to make a plan with you and redirect you to the right services if necessary.
