Indigenous Peoples Awareness Month activities: Food tastings (TBD) & Orange Shirt Day (Sept. 30)

Now for the fun part!
More food tastings thanks to the Healthy Lifestyle Committee partnership! All at lunch hour from 12h30 until the bell. Allergies? Check the ingredient’s list.

Also different organizations (invited by Student Services professionals & school nurse) will visit us at lunch time. Watch the Student Bulletin for news.

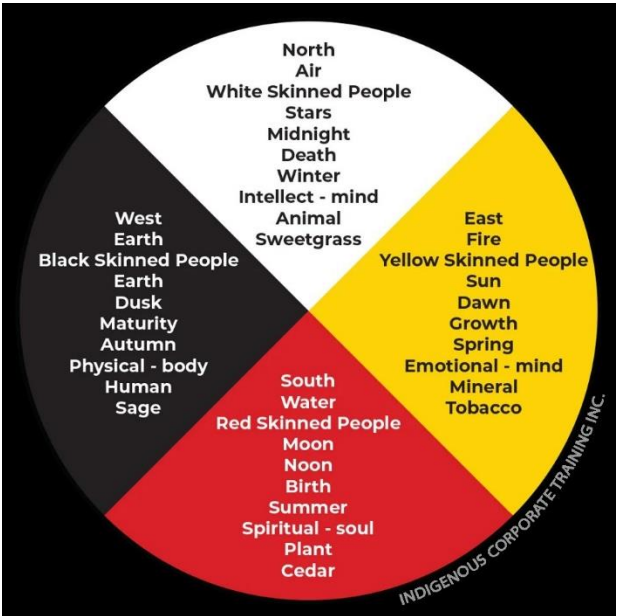

If you have suggestions for books, activities, projects to do, come see us!

IPAM (Indigenous Peoples Awareness Month) In the Library

Let’s look at the Medicine Wheel. It reflects Indigenous traditions and teachings. Divided into four segments, with different colors representing its content, each quarter corresponds to a phase of life, a direction, a traditional medicine and an aspect of being, giving us a good intro to their beliefs.

Sharing a meal is also a good place to learn about other cultures and traditions. Therefore, every Tuesday and Thursday in September, come to the Library for a food tasting!!

- Tuesday: NADOWESSABO (Huron Corn Soup)
- Thursday: 2 different Three-Sisters Salads (Takwakin & Haudenosaunee)
